CHICAGO

TOP 5 SPOTS TO VISIT

Michigan Avenue & The Magnificent Mile

Michigan Avenue is probably one of the most attractive boulevards in America.

The city's famous Magnificent Mile is a section of Michigan Avenue north of the Chicago River, with numerous galleries, boutiques and luxury shops.

Some of the attractions include the John Hancock Center, the Wrigley Building, and the Tribune Tower.

Millennium Park

Millennium Park is located in downtown Chicago bordered by Michigan Avenue to the west, Columbus Drive to the east, Randolph Street to the North and Monroe Street to the South. The main features of Millennium Park include the Jay Pritzker Pavilion, an outdoor concert venue; the interactive Crown Fountain; Lurie Garden; and the Cloud Gate sculpture on the AT&T Plaza.

Museum of Science and Industry

At the north end of Jackson Park is the Museum of Science and Industry, founded in 1933, and arguably the most impressive museum in Chicago. It is devoted to the application of natural laws in technological and industrial development. The museum is thought to be the first in the U.S. to incorporate the idea of "hands-on" exhibits.

The Navy Pier

The Navy Pier is made up of 50 acres of gardens, attractions, shops, restaurants, concert venues, and parks. Visitors can also watch a film at the 3D Imax Theater, watch actors perform the classics at the Chicago Shakespeare Theater, or visit Crystal Gardens, a one-acre, six-story, indoor botanical garden.

TOP 5 PIZZA PLACES

Giordano's Pizza

"Cheese overload and barely able to walk through town afterwards means that the pizza was delicious! I am ready to go back!"

"The service at Giordano's was excellent and the stuffed pizza was amazingly delicious!! The prices were reasonable. It's definitely a go to pizza place in Chicago!!!"

"Amazing pizza!!! I loved it. You surely can have a great time (and great dinner) without spending too much. It's a must go at Chicago!"

Chicago Pizza & Oven Grinder

"This place was my absolute favorite pizza place in all of Chicagoland."

"The pot pie pizza is so incredible that it beats any other deep dish type pizza in the windy city!"

"This place is absolutely amazing. The old school feel really gives it character and the food is nothing short of perfect."

Spacca Napoli

"Delicious 14in Neapolitan style pizza with a puffy, chewy crust but a bit soft in the center and made with high quality ingredients like real buffalo mozzarella and parm regg cheese."

"I am Italian and decided to go to this place during a family visit. What can I say? I was really impressed. Pizza is Italian all the way...napoletana to be precise that makes the concept even better."

"I think we ate something that can only be derived from the heavens above - burrato. Some sort of special mozzarella cheese imported once a week that is creamy and spreadable on toasty bread slices."

Pizano's Pizza & Pasta

"Awesome quaint little place, wonderful service and food --antipasto salad was huge! Nice authentic staff and food."

"Pizano's is our go to in Chicago for deep dish. Tried most of the others and this is our favorite."

"I visited Pizano's on my first night in Chicago and also enjoyed it twice at Lollapalooza. As an Australian accustomed to thin pizza I was skeptical, but the pizza was amazing."

Lou Malnati's Pizzeria

"Can't say enough about this place! The food was amazing!"

"I went to Malnati's on a food tour last week and WOW that is some delicious deep dish cheesy pizza!"

"Look no more for a deep dish pizza. This place is just perfect deep dish pizza. Could not recommend more."

TOP 5 SPOTS TO SHOP

Water Tower Place

There is more to do than just shop at Water Tower Place, an eight-level shopping center located at the northern tip of the Magnificent Mile. In addition to more than 100 stores, there are several restaurants and even a 550-seat theater that is part of the Broadway in Chicago family. Shops like a massive Lego Store, Macy's, Nine West, Banana Republic, Forever 21 and Sephora share space with foodlife, a unique dining venue which features 14 kitchens serving food made from scratch daily. People come from all over the world to shop with their children at the American Girl Place store and cafe.

Magnificent Mile and Streeterville

Huge stores from huge names--On the north end of the strip is Water Tower Place and the 900 North Michigan Shops, with stores like Macy's, Bloomingdale's and Saks Fifth Avenue among their anchors. Just south is Chicago Place which includes Prada among its tenants. On the southern part of the Mag Mile is The Shops at North Bridge which includes a four-story Nordstrom with a shoe department that occupies the entire first floor. There's even a new Chicago Blackhawks store, packed with every imaginable piece of memorabilia from the Stanley Cup champion team.

Wicker Park & Bucktown

Local designers have set up a number of original boutiques, from clothing and jewelry to worldly home furnishings. Bucktown sits on the hip of Wicker Park. The area is worth distinguishing from its neighbor because of its discount and antique furniture shops. The area is a continuation of urban boutiques and specialty thrift stores. Rule of thumb, if you don't know where else to find it, Bucktown is your best bet. The area is well-known for its arts and dining scene so after you're done shopping, be sure to hit up one of the restaurants.

Fashion Outlets of Chicago

Fashion Outlets of Chicago is a new mall, with designer shops like Burberry and Prada on the second floor, and less expensive stores like Under Armour, Converse and GAP on the first floor. Because it's next to O'Hare, there are all sorts of traveler-friendly services, like bag checks, free shuttles to and from the airport, and a service deck that tracks your flight. There are lots of specialty items, like sports jerseys, hats, and Chicago T-shirts.

Oak Street

Barney's New York, Tod's and Agent Provocateur are just a few high-end shops that adorn the one block shopping district, many of which are located in converted town homes. Oak's collection of shops is wedged between Michigan Ave and North Rush Street. Also located on this main street is Bravco, a store that stocks a great selection of hair and beauty products for less than you'd find at a salon. For a "see and be seen" hot spot, order a glass of champagne at Fred's at Barney's New York.
